

GALLERY
WEEKEND
BERLIN

Artist Studio | Install by Diana Pfammatter

For Gallery Weekend Berlin 2025, the exhibiting artists take centre stage in Berlin-based photographer Diana Pfammatter's ongoing series Artist Studio / Install. Expanding her project to include participants of the event, she offers a rare glimpse into the often-hidden processes of artistic creation by documenting artists in their studios or during the installation of their exhibitions. With a focus on the unfiltered, sometimes unglamorous moments of artistic labour, she captures the intersection of presence and process — where the artist, their work, their bodies and their space converge. This series is not just about the finished work, but about the act of making — the quiet, sometimes lonely concentration, the noisy physicality of installation and the intimate relationship between artist and the spaces that their works inhabit.

Benjamin Lallier

Benjamin Lallier, Berlin, 2025. © Diana Pfammatter

Benjamin Lallier, Berlin, 2025. © Diana Pfammatter

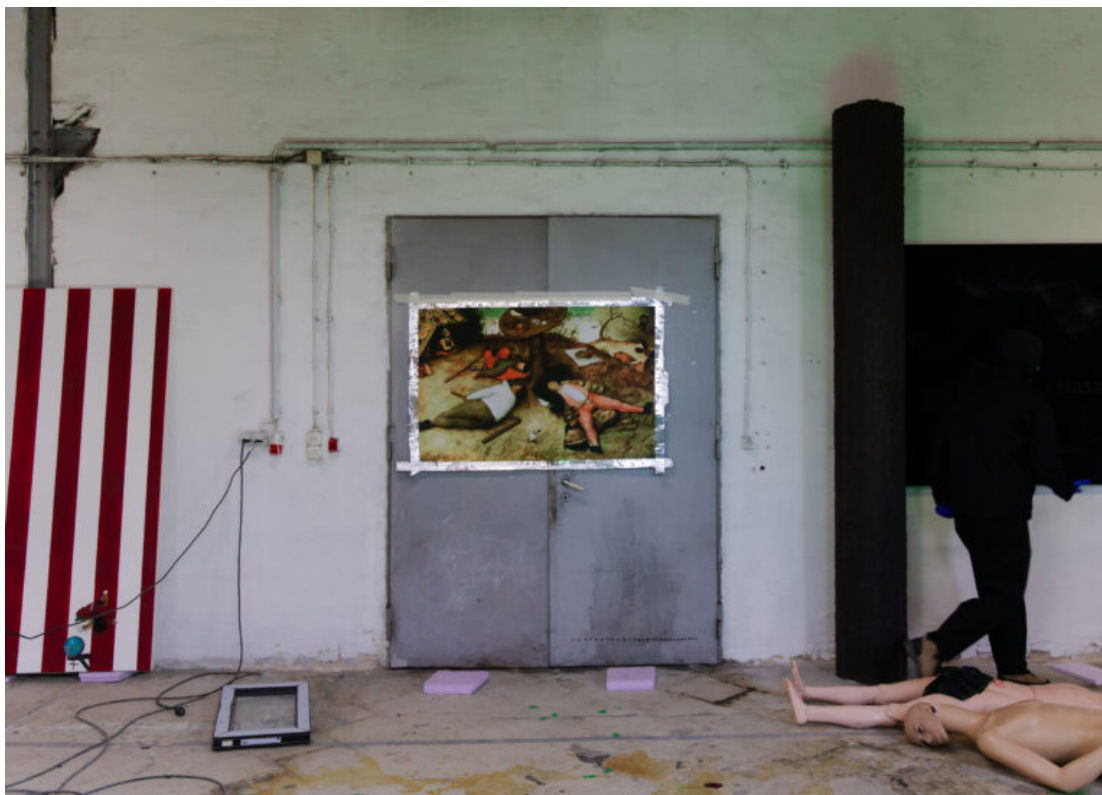

Benjamin Lallier, Berlin, 2025. © Diana Pfammatter

Benjamin Lallier lives and works in Berlin. During Gallery Weekend Berlin, he is presenting Lying in the Kitchen at Heidi — a series of large installation and mixed-media works that blend contemporary imagery with traditional techniques of layering and varnishing. By testing the boundaries between authenticity and artifice, his work navigates the space between what is real and what is merely a constructed ideal.

Benjamin Lallier, Berlin, 2025. © Diana Pfammatter

Benjamin Lallier, Berlin, 2025. © Diana Pfammatter

Benjamin Lallier, Berlin, 2025. © Diana Pfammatter

Benjamin Lallier, Berlin, 2025. © Diana Pfammatter